W. HALL & CO.,

THE governmental and political questions of the coming year will have an absorbing interest for every citizen. We are engaged in a gigantic civil war, the result of which none can foresee. It threatens a radica change in the institutions and principles upon which the Government was founded, and the destruction of the liberty and rights of the citizen, such as the people of no other nation have enjoyed, and t which may be attributed our unequaled progress in national prosperity and greatness. The issue will soon be upon us, whether this free Government shall be preserved and maintained and the rights of the States under the Constitution perpetuated, or a powerful central authority be permitted to grow out of this war, obliterating State lines, State institutions, and all those checks upon the Federal Government, rights reserved by the States, which have constituted the excellence and supe riority of our nationality-States "one as the sea" for the common objects set forth in the Constitution, but "distinct as the billows" in the management of their purely dome tic affairs. These questions were involved in the recent elections, and the voice of the people was most emphatically expressed for the "Constitution as it is and the Union as it was." Never was there a time when it was so important that the people should be thoroughly advised as to the progress and condition of public affairs and of passing events. The Sentinel will continue to represent and stand by the regular organizations of the Democratic party, State and National; sustain the principles and policy they shall avow, and support the candidates they may nominate.

We have no agents. The low prices for subscription will not allow it. We therefore ask our Democratic friends-all who desire the success of sound principlesto aid in the extension of the circulation of the Sentinel, Daily and Weekly, until they shall at least reach every Democratic family in Indiana. The press is a most important agent in directing aright the public mind, and all that is needed to give the Democratic party permanent rule is the enlightenment of the people as to its principles and policy. It shall be our aim, with all the ability we possess, to faithfully advocate Democratic sentiments and measures, for we believe that in se doing we best promote the true interests of the country.

STATUTES OF INDIANA. GAVIN & HORD'S REVISION.

The second volume of Mesers Gavin & Hord's compliaion of Indiana Statutes has just appeared. This volume ompletes their work. Its mechanical execution is ver reditable; and the skill, learning, and labor which the editors have restowed on it, merit the highest praise. None but learned, diligent lawyers could have produced

The second volume embraces all the public statutes of ludiana now in force upon the subjects to which it relates, and the first all excepting the acts of the last regular and extra sessions of the Legislature. It is a great excellence of the compilation that all existing statutes on each subject are collected together in the same place in these volumes; so that the reader can see at a glance all the legislation in force on any given subject. Take, for example, the act of 1852, organizing Courts of Common Pleas-the editors publish the act at large, and they also print, in the form of notes on the same pages containing this statute, all the acts amendatory to it which have been passed up to this time. And so they have done of all the other acts contained in the revision of 1852.

The editors have added much to the value of these volumes-especially the last-by the copious and learned notes with which the volumes abound. These notes indicate much labor an legal acumen. They furnish us, in a concise and accurate form, with all the adjudications of our Supreme Court on these statutes. These adjudicaself-government unless with an intelligent judgment they tions being now very numerous, the references to them decide upon the questions which affect alike their own in the volumes under consideration, will be of great value to the lawyer, and indeed to all persons concerned in the administration of justice.
